MANUSCRIPT COLLECTION NO. 44

THE PAPERS OF H. GRANT TAYLOR, M.D..

I. Introduction

Dr. Taylor's papers consist primarily of personal and professional correspondence; board meeting and committee meeting minutes and reports; drafts, manuscripts, and published professional papers (including several first drafts handwritten by Dr. Taylor); documentation chronicling his role with the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC) in Japan, his role in the organization and development of a regional medical plan centered in Houston, of the University of Texas (UT) Postgraduate School of Medicine and its Division of Continuing Education, and of M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute (MDAH), currently known as UT M. D. Anderson Cancer Center, and its renowned Department of Pediatrics; applications and correspondence regarding funding for a wide range of research, continuing education, and community projects.

Dr. Taylor began depositing his papers with the Houston Academy of Medicine - Texas Medical Center Library's Historical Research Center (HRC) in the early 1980s and continued to contribute to and support the HRC, especially the collection of ABCC materials, until his death in 1995. These papers document his career beginning with some of his medical school notes. The 38 boxes of material occupy 16 linear feet.

II. Biography

Harvey Grant Taylor was born in San Francisco, California, on July 22, 1903, to Stella May (Benson) and Benjamin Rush Taylor. When he was five, his family moved to the Canadian wilderness northwest of Calgary. His formal schooling did not begin until the family returned to California when he was twelve. He subsequently earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from San Jose State College in 1928 and a master of arts in education from Stanford in 1929. He did not turn to medicine until he was in his thirties and pursuing a doctorate in psychology at Stanford. He enrolled at Duke University School of Medicine, completed his studies in just over three years, and obtained his medical degree in 1939 at the age of thirty-seven. He interned at Duke Hospital 1939-1940, was an assistant resident there 1940-1941, and served as a pediatric resident and assistant in research in pathology at Alfred I. DuPont Institute 1941-1942.

In 1942 he met and married Martha Worth "Pat" Rogers in Atlanta, Georgia. During the 1940s, the Taylors had two sons, Harvey Grant Taylor, Jr., and Worth Rogers Taylor. From 1942 to 1946 Dr. Taylor served in the Army Medical Corps for which he received a Bronze Star and a battlefield promotion for his work under fire in Okinawa. After the war, Lt. Colonel Taylor returned to Duke as Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Assistant Professor of Bacteriology, and Assistant Dean of the School of Medicine 1946-1947, and Associate Professor of Pediatrics, Associate Professor and Associate Dean there 1947-1949. He was licensed to practice medicine in the State of North Carolina in 1946, and certified by the American Board of Pediatrics in 1949.

1949-1951 he returned to Japan as Deputy Medical Director for Research with the ABCC and as a consultant for the Armed Forces Epidemiological Board in Korea. He served as Director of the ABCC 1952-1954.

Dr. Taylor's forty-one-year association with MDAH in Houston, Texas, began in 1954. In 1955, he obtained his license to practice medicine in the State of Texas. He became MDAH's first chief of the Section of Pediatrics, and he organized and headed the UT Postgraduate School of Medicine in Houston, which became the UT Health Science Center's Division of Continuing Education. He officially retired in 1975, but his affiliation with MDAH and the Division of Continuing Education continued. In 1977, he was named Emeritus Director of Continuing Education at the UT Health Science Center. In 1985, he was named Emeritus Professor of Pediatrics at MDAH where his program of care that addressed the social, emotional, and medical needs of pediatric cancer patients formed the foundation for MDAH's current system of pediatric therapy that integrates medical care and normal childhood development. In his tireless dedication to fundraising for pediatric cancer research, at the age of 87 he implemented an aluminum recycling program at MDAH that continues to generate thousands of research dollars annually.

Dr. Taylor's ABCC experiences convinced him that selfless teamwork and collaboration were necessary to obtain maximum benefit from medical research and education. In the 1950s, thirty-four Japanese physicians were trained at MDAH. He was particularly proud of this achievement and said of those doctors, "In a way, one of our hospital's major international contributions was the training of these people. The Japanese did much with what they learned here. Their society was moving forward fast, and so they went right ahead with what they learned." He also gratefully acknowledged parents' heroic magnanimity and contributions as research partners by granting permission to use experimental drugs that they were aware could not improve the condition of their child., "but if you can learn something that might help somebody else, go ahead and do it." In the late 1950s, his belief in the necessity for cooperative research led Dr. Taylor to organize the first collaborative research group in the southwestern region of the U. S., the Southwest Cancer Chemotherapy Study Group, known today as the Southwest Oncology Group, the largest cooperative group for clinical trials in the country.

Dr. Taylor authored scores of articles for medical journals, reports for the ABCC, chapters for medical texts, and thoughtful editorials throughout his career. In 1990 he published Pioneers in Pediatric Oncology, a collection of autobiographies of thirty-nine of the major contributors to the remarkable progress in this discipline. In 1991 he published Remembrances & Reflections, an autobiography edited by N. Don Macon and John P. McGovern, M.D. He received deserved recognition for his humanitarian achievements through the years. In 1969 he received a special award from the Leukemia Society, in 1973 a $1,000 award from the Center for Interaction, a private Houston foundation, and a certificate of appreciation from the Regional Medical Program of Texas and Texas Regional Medical Program, Inc. He was given honorary Emeritus membership on the Pediatric Executive Committee of the Southwest Oncology Group in 1974 and the American School Health Association Award in 1975. In June and August 1975 tributes were organized in his honor by the UT System and the Harris County Medical Society, respectively. The annual Grant Taylor Lectureship was established by the UT Health Science Center in 1981. Among other honors, he was also given Life Membership in the DeMolay Legion of Honor and, in 1986, the Sidney Kaliski Award from the Texas Pediatric Society, a chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Dr. Taylor died September 19, 1995. Perhaps much of his life's work can be understood within the context of quotes found among his papers. One, written in his own hand on a scrap of envelope is a quote attributed to Teddy Roosevelt:

Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they live in the gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat.

The second quote by an unnamed author is typewritten on a sheet of plain paper:

THIS I BELIEVE

I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking; and in the pleasure of my job.

I believe that a man gets what he goes after, that one deed done today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself.

I believe in today, and in the work I am doing, in tomorrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds.

I believe in courtesy, in kindness, in good cheer, in friendship and love.

Dr. Taylor's life and legacy affirm these beliefs.

III. ORGANIZATION

The correspondence, records, and other documentation in Dr. Taylor's collection were maintained in original order whenever possible. Folders and material within folders generally are in chronological order. Duplicates and triplicates of documents were discarded. Photocopies were noted and discarded of journal articles that remain readily accessible in the original journals unless the article was inscribed by the author. When duplicates were found, two copies of journal articles authored by Dr. Taylor were retained and additional copies discarded along with duplicates of other reports and reprints already in the collection. When a report was authored by Dr. Taylor and a number of his colleagues, Dr. Taylor's name is listed as primary author, "et al.," regardless of the sequence of the authors' names on the published report or article, to emphasize his contribution.

The few folders which contain restricted patient information are noted with a bold asterisk (*).

Archival bond was interleaved where it seemed likely that related documents and attachments to a cover letter might become separated after the staples were removed. Tabbed report dividers were replaced with archival bond sheets. Any information on the tabs was transferred onto these sheets.

Where possible, documents on particularly acidic paper, such as thermofax copies, were photocopied onto archival bond paper and the acidic copies discarded. In instances where a report was on oversized forms and/or coded in various colored inks which could not be duplicated satisfactorily in a photocopy, the document was placed in its own L-velope or acid-free folder to help contain possible contaminants. Some personal correspondence handwritten in smudgy inks, but on unique stationery was segregated in a similar manner.

Some photographs were relocated to the HRC's photograph collection. Most were sleeved and left with pertinent correspondence, manuscripts, drafts, or reports. Captions taped onto photographs were removed, duplicated on archival bond, and placed in L-velopes along with the photographs.

Abbreviations used include:

AAP - American Academy of Pediatrics

ACS - American Cancer Society

AEC - Atomic Energy Commission

BCM - Baylor College of Medicine

BNL - Brookhaven National Laboratory

CAC - Committee on Atomic Casualties

CEU - continuing education unit

JAMA - Journal of the American Medical Association

JRNL - journal

LSA - Leukemia Society of America

MCTV - Medical Community Television System

MDAH - M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute (currently known as the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Cancer Center)

MS - manuscript

NAS - National Academy of Sciences

NCI - National Cancer Institute

TMC - Texas Medical Center

TS - typescript

UT - University of Texas

UTPSM - University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine

The Taylor Collection is divided into five series:

I. Personal & Biographical

II. Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC)

III. Appointments/Boards & Committees/Meetings

IV. Continuing Education

V. University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute (UTMDAH)

I. Personal & Biographical

This series contains papers pertinent to the acquisition of the Taylor Collection; general biographical information; military and medical school papers (including Duke University Medical School alumni correspondence and correspondence with his mentor and friend, Duke University President W. C. Davison and Mrs. Davison); Cosmos Club, Who's Who In America, and American Osler Society information; Christmas cards and letters; both personal and professional invitations extended to the Taylors; general and personal correspondence relating to most aspects of Dr. Taylor's career and personal life; correspondence and documents related to awards and honors earned by Dr. Taylor; some of the articles, speeches, and tributes authored by Dr. Taylor which are sometime accompanied by handwritten drafts; and articles, quotes, poems, songs, and tributes written by others and collected by Dr. Taylor.

II. Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC)

Found in this series are general ABCC correspondence and correspondence with specific ABCC-affiliated individuals including Abol F. Fotouhi, Dr. Noriaki Ida, Irene Kabat, Mildred N. Montgomery, Ruth & Robert Moore, Mrs. Reiko Nakamura, Tsutomi "Dutch" Nakayama, Earle & Barbara Reynolds & family, Dr. Koji Takeshima, Dr. Herman Wigodsky, Dr. Hideo Yagi, Dr. Masao Yoshida, Dr. George B. Darling; organizational information, reports, notes and minutes of NRC/CAC/ABCC meetings; maps, brochures, and literature relating to Tokyo and Hiroshima (some in Japanese); ABCC publications; some 1954-1957 copies of the "ABCC News Bulletin;" and translations of ABCC/Marshall Islands-related articles which appeared in the Japanese press in 1954, along with some English-language articles.

III. Appointments/Boards & Committees/Meetings

This series contains correspondence and general information regarding various appointed positions and committees on which Dr. Taylor served and meetings that he attended. There is extensive correspondence and information regarding the Committee on Army Medical Education, the White House Conference on Children & Youth, the American Cancer Society, and the Leukemia Society of America.

IV. Continuing Education

This series includes general correspondence regarding continuing education resources, information pertaining to the organization of the UT Postgraduate School of Medicine, UTPSM's affiliation agreements, Regional Medical Plan affiliates, continuing education programs and courses offered, grant applications with relevant correspondence, and miscellaneous continuing education correspondence and forms.

V. University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute (UTMDAH)

UT Board of Regents notes and meeting minutes; UTMDAH administration/staff correspondence, information, and planning; pediatric correspondence, planning, and research; and grant request correspondence and information are found in this series.

IV. INVENTORY (*=restricted files)

SERIES I. PERSONAL & BIOGRAPHICAL

Box 1

Folders 1-5

General biographical information, curriculum vitae, questionnaires, press releases and tributes following Dr. Taylor's death, correspondence regarding Dr. Taylor's high school reunions, military records, medical school lecture notes, and correspondence dated 1955 regarding Dr. Taylor's candidacy for the position of Dean at the Univ. of Maryland Medical School.

Folders 6-9

Undated articles collected by Dr. Taylor including:

"Etiology"

"Antibiotics"

"Acute Lye Poisoning in Children"

Bibliography for a chapter on "Pigmentation"

Chemotherapy in Childhood Cancer (various article reprints, TSs - Folder 160)

"Peroxidase Activity in Erythrocytes of Children with Acute Leukemia & Lymphomas" by Drs. Higashi & Sutow

"Present Day Concept of Tonsillectomy in Pediatric Practice" by Wm. L. Boucher

"Teratoma of the Orbit" by T. L. Royce & P. Abeto

TSs by various authors on miscellaneous pediatric treatments/diseases (for AAP?)

"A Classification of Congenital and/or Hereditary Abnormalities," outline

"The Texas Regional Medical Program Dial Access Project for Cancer Consultation" by Robert C. Hickey, M.D. (Folder 166)

Folders 167-168

1940s materials collected by Dr. Taylor:

"Rules Governing the State Bar of Texas," booklet dated June 5, 1944

Infantile paralysis/poliomyelitis: miscellaneous pamphlets & brochures dated 1945- 1949 (also see Series II, Box 1)

Folders 169-174

1950s articles collected by Dr. Taylor:

Arthur Purdy Stout, et al., article reprints & TSs dated 1950-1955 on soft tissue tumors

"The Educated Heart, " TS dated May 28, 1956, by Keith Cannan (Folder 170)

Edward L. Bortz, M.D., article reprints dated 1956-1957 on growth & aging

John H. Moyer, M.D., et al., article reprints dated 1956-1957 on diuretics & hypertension

"The Conquest of Cancer" by Roy P. Villasor, M.D., The Manila (Philippines) Times Jan.-Feb. 1958 (Folder 173)

Dr. Alvan G. Foraker, article reprints dated 1958-1959

Folders 175-179

1959-1960+ article reprints collected by Dr. Taylor:

United Mine Workers of America, 1959-1960

Tapeworms, 1959-1960

Dr. David W. Weiss, et al., 1960s

Karl John Karnaky, B.A., M.D., 1960-1962

Pediatric studies, leukemia, etc., TSs and article reprint dated in the 1960s

Box 11 Articles collected by Dr. Taylor

Folders 180-184

1960s articles collected by Dr. Taylor:

"Viruses and Tumors," Leon Dmochowski, Science, Feb. 1961 (inscribed "Grant from Leon"; also see Series V, Boxes 8 & 9).

"Antimicrobial Therapy of Tuberculosis in Children" by Katharine H. K. Hsu, M.D., TS, Jan. 1961

Sumter S. Arnim, article reprints & handwritten correspondence, 1962-1965 (Folder 182)

Noriaki Ida, M.D., et al., various articles on viruses & leukemia dated 1958, 1962, 1965 (Folder 183; also see Box 3, Folders 33-35 of this series for relatively extensive correspondence with Dr. Ida; Series II, Box 3; Series III, Box 5, and Series V, Boxes 6 & 7).

"Long-Term Remissions in Childhood Acute Leukemia," Isaac, Djerassi, M.D. (also see Series V, Box 4), et al., Clinical Pediatrics, Aug. 1966.

Folders 185-189

Articles authored by Shigeaki Hinohara, M.D.:

"Osler's Peregrinations in Asia - A Report of a Recent Event"--correspondence, letter of release, drafts, MS (Folders 185-188; also see folder of 1970s articles in this box for "Osler's Rough Edge" and Box 1 of this series for information on the American Osler Society); Dr. Hinohara's address at the inauguration of Life Planning Center Foundation in Tokyo, April 3, 1973.

Folders 190-194
